

Tips to Include People with Disabilities in Research

April 8th 2025 @ 1PM Dublin (90 mins)

This webinar will explore key approaches to increasing representation of people with disabilities in oral health research, drawing on real-world experience and global best practices.

Topics will include:

- Tackling barriers to participation, such as communication challenges and consent issues, through inclusive designs.
- How to design user-friendly and accessible clinical survey tools.
- Learning how low-threshold data collection in collaboration with non-dental professionals can improve our understanding of oral health equity.
